Saying Engagement.
The Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch, of Wednesday:

"Miss Frances Priddy entertained charmingly at a luncheon given yesterday afternoon at the Country Club. The occasion was in honor of Miss Ione Carney, whose engagement to Dr. Chester B. Gifford was formally announced at the time. Miss Carney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Carney, and is extremely popular with a wide circle of friends both here and elsewhere. Dr. Gifford is a native of New York, but has practiced his profession in Norfolk for several years, and is exceedingly popular in both business and social circles here. At luncheon the table was prettily decorated in green and white. An artistic cluster of white asters and maidenhair fern ornamented the center of the table; white satin ribbons extended from each guest's plate, and when pulled in rotation these ribbons were found to terminate in small white hearts, upon which was inscribed fragments of sentences. When read in sequence the interesting announcement of Miss Carney's approaching marriage was also revealed; in this way the date was also disclosed. The place cards were hand-

TRINITY OPENS FOR ANOTHER TERM

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Trinity College, Durham, N. C., September 14.—"Marse Jack," the mammoth new bell installed in its temporary tower yesterday morning at 9 o'clock rang forth in its deep, sweet tone, formally inaugurating the fifty-third session of Trinity College. With the first tap of the bell, the president of the class slowly began to raise the flag of 1912, and at the last notes of the bell and just as the flag reached the top of the pole, the members of the class gathered, and gave their yell.

Then the whole student body, the faculty and many of the alumni and friends, numbering nearly 1,000 persons, entered the Craven Memorial Hall, where the first chapel exercises of the year were conducted by Rev. J. D. Bundy, of Elizabeth City. The pastors of the various city churches were introduced, and they in turn made short talks, welcoming the students.

The return of Dr. W. H. Glasson, of the department of political science, and economics, was hailed with delight, and the new professors, Dr. P. N. Parker, of the department of liberal literature, Judge J. Crawford Biggs, of the law school, and Rev. W. W. Peels, headmaster of the Trinity Park School, were announced by President Few, with the remark that

CHILD'S HEAD SOLID MASS OF HUMOR

It Was Awful. Grieved Continually. Had to Hold and Watch Him to Keep Him from Scratching. Suffering Was Dreadful.

Had not Used Half a Set of Cuticura Remedies Before Head Was Clear and Free from Eczema.

"I think the Cuticura Remedies are the best remedies for eczema I have ever heard of. My mother had a child who had a rash on its head when it was real young. Doctor called it baby rash. He gave us medicine, but it did no good. In a few days the head was a solid mass of running sores. It was awful, the child cried continually. We had to hold him and watch him (to keep him) from scratching the sores. His suffering was dreadful. At last we remembered Cuticura Remedies. We got a dollar bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a bar of Cuticura Soap. We gave the Resolvent as directed, washed the head with the Cuticura Soap, and applied the Cuticura Ointment. We had not used half before the child's head was clear and free from eczema, and it has never come back again. His head was healthy and he had a beautiful head of hair. I think the Cuticura Ointment very good for the hair. It makes the hair grow and prevents falling hair." (Signed) Mrs. Francis Lund, Plain City, Utah, Sept. 19, 1910.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are for sale throughout the world, but to those who have suffered much, loss of hope and are without faith in any treatment, a liberal sample of each with 32-p. booklet on the skin will be mailed free, on application. Address: Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 12B, Boston.

the additions to the faculty are in his judgment the most important ever made in a single year. Various announcements concerning the opening of the college and Park School were then made.

The members of the three upper classes have matriculated, the registration showing that a very large per cent. of the old men have returned to resume their work. The senior class, probably will number sixty, undoubtedly will be the largest in the history of the institution. The new men went before the committee on admission, the records showing that up to the present time more than 180 freshmen have been admitted as students in the college, and the prospects are that the number of new men will reach 200 or above. The new students will matriculate Friday, and their class work will begin immediately thereafter, while the upper classmen begin their class work to-day.

Al. G. Field's Audience.
Before a large audience in the afternoon and literally a sold-out house at night, the Al. G. Field's Minstrels gave yesterday the most screamingly funny performance that I have ever witnessed by this organization. And this, too, in spite of the fact that this old-world minstrel of some twenty-five years of fame is no longer a youngster. In his stead we had Burr Swor (for years in musical comedy), John Healy, Doc Quigley and Gov. Bowen, besides an unusually clever entertainer named Nick Glynn, with his pockets full of musical oddities; a chorus of ringing power, several men whose solo work delighted the local audiences, and lots of new and laughable songs.

This man Healy grows more absurd each season; every year the chronic theatre-goers, who have known his peculiar style for many a day, almost yell their joy at the utter foolishness of him. Doc Quigley and Gov. Bowen are also clever and funny, and Burr Swor is a more than valuable addition to Mr. Field's company. He has a sort of monologue during one of the changes in which he does a dialogue between a darkey, who ribs himself up with a "Swift and Easton" gun, and his girl that made even the top gallery shout approval.

The "singing surprise" and "transformations" were wonderfully pretty; the chorus sang, as has been mentioned, with ringing power, in spite of the fact that it does not as yet sing altogether as a unit. The soprano, Herbert Willison, and first tenor, Walter Sherwood, who stood together, in particular, had an unpleasant trick of coming into the choruses a fraction of a beat too soon, but this is doubtless hypercritical, and, besides, will be corrected after the organization has been together a little longer. And, besides again, the audience went crazy about the singing of both of these men, so possibly they should be allowed some little liberties, and their voices are remarkable, whether every semi-musical likes them or not. Jack Richards and Jack King Allan also sang their way into the heart of the house. But the man to whom chorus singers should bow is the steady war-horse of a second voice and leader, an unpleasant trick of coming into the choruses a fraction of a beat too soon, but this is doubtless hypercritical, and, besides, will be corrected after the organization has been together a little longer.
